I'm doing well

1674th Tenjin-en Tetsuyo Seisho

Summary of the main message from the head of Utsunomiya Church

Message from the church president: The number of people participating in the spiritual training session has increased, so we have created our own spiritual academy within the church and have started to pray and work together. Two members who participated in the spiritual training for the first time in 25 years, Seihei, initially lacked confidence and had high barriers to blessings, but after participating in the 3-day training, they changed to confidently call out names during the prayer, and are now preparing for the blessings in 2028. The parents of these two members have opened their homes and every night, 20-30 people gather to devote themselves to the Tetsuyo Seisho. Through their daughter's significant change, they are experiencing the benefits of Tenjin-en Seisho.

Moshim Shuun: I wanted to become a person of love through the 21 Shuun training in Chiba, but instead, my relationship with others became worse due to my own judgment. I realized my own problems and participated in the spiritual 40 Shuun, and was inspired by the Shuun of Naruwa Spiritual Training, challenging myself to 430 bows of reverence, but I was about to give up due to the difficulty, but I persevered with a single-minded desire to keep my promise to heaven. I gained the enlightenment that change only comes through self-effort, and I will diligently practice to put it into practice in my daily life. Now, I have decided to spend my life in training to correct myself through Moshim Shuun.

40 years of Korean Christian experience: I was active as the president of the Seiryu Student Association, but I had no faith and had decided to leave the church when I turned 20. I participated in the Pure Water Assembly with a light heart and received blessings, and then joined the 40-year-old Christian experience. However, I found myself in a difficult position, standing as the leader of the choir along with the group leader, due to the stress. Through my own struggles, I came to reflect on the struggles of my mother, and from there, I gained strength. I used to think that I could be happy even without faith, but now I have completely changed. I have come to realize that faith is about practicing love, sharing pain, and continuing to strive until the end.

The path that true parents take is a path of forgiveness and love. Loving revenge is giving blessings to oneself. There is a cause behind the person who makes you suffer. When you forgive, love, and pray for them, everything is resolved, and it is important to become one with them. The size of love determines the size of the church and the leaders. By practicing the word, the vitality of joy that comes from it is remembered in the spiritual body, and it grows. Through this, not only I but also the ancestors who have returned grow. If you look with open eyes, many spiritual people participate in the all-night vigil. You can feel that heaven is working. If we proceed with absolute faith, love, and obedience, heaven will send down great blessings.
