International Human Rights Groups Hold Joint Press Conference in Seoul

"Chinese influence operations are working with Korean anti-heresy networks and Japanese leftists to weaken conservative religions in both countries." International human rights groups held a joint press conference in Seoul. Media and politics cast one religion as society's enemy. Judicial abuse is then justified by it.

the story behind the app

In 2016, David Stacey, a young FFWPU member who had just finished studying engineering in London, had the desire to build a simple Android app so families could keep the Family Pledge close at hand.

"Chinese influence operations are working with Korean anti-heresy networks and Japanese leftists to weaken conservative religions in both countries."

International human rights groups held a joint press conference in Seoul.

Media and politics cast one religion as society's enemy. Judicial abuse is then justified by it.

Two religious leaders are in long-term detention.

Chairman Lee Man-hee, 95, of Shincheonji.

Dr. Hak Ja Han, 83, of the Family Federation.

Public hostility runs ahead of any verdict. Bail is refused to aged defendants without justification.

Due process is tested on the least popular believers.

So why is none of this being argued out in South Korea?

Asian communists have infiltrated and are dominating the media and governments in Japan, South Korea and internationally. Impeach Lee immediately. He is a puppet of the CCP and NK governments.

Historically, Korean Christianity has always hunted heresy and complied with the state.

Christianity took root in Korea by rejecting "demonic" Buddhism, Confucianism, and Shamanism. Defining clear boundaries between "pure faith" and "pagan heresy" became a matter of spiritual

The detention of specific religious leaders is involved in China's influence operations. Behind this lies the existence of an international network of leftists in China, Korea, and Japan. The current situation in Korea under the Lee Jae-myung administration poses a security risk

I believe this is influenced by the Chinese leftists. Under the current administration, where Lee Jae-myung—indicted for breach of trust involving damages of 480 billion won, approximately 54.8 billion yen, or 350 million dollars—somehow rose to the top, the situation has done a Show more
